Systematic personnel development

Independent of time and place

Have you only got a limited amount of time available for your training? Let the participants fill out the questionnaires online in advance. This saves you the time of filling out and calculating during the seminar. Transfer or calculation mistakes are ruled out. Make use of the online advantage, independent of time and place!

Customer management at its easiest!

With just a few clicks you have immediate access to your customer data and the corresponding projects. You will be able to access evaluations, send access codes or create new customers from any place in the world with Internet access in seconds!

Variety of precise evaluations

You can choose between different evaluations that meet specific requirements. The online report contains a demand-oriented evaluation, either short and to the point or detailed and individual, e.g. the persolog® Personality Factor Profile with an additional “management” evaluation, particularly for manager coaching.

One evaluation, several recipients

Send your evaluations to up to three recipients. This way, all people involved will be informed quickly without additional costs. Just enter or choose an e-mail address. The evaluations will then be sent automatically.

Your client– your logo

Put your logo on the online reports. This way, your client always knows who to refer to for questions or new requests.

Your client will be more independent

With the eport you will have the opportunity to create individual access for your customer. In order to generate turnover you will no longer have to become active yourself and can concentrate on other tasks.

True added value: online credits

Have you suddenly got 20 instead of 15 participants in a training session? No problem! With the easy credit system you will be able to generate an indefinite number of codes anytime and will have various possibilities for evaluation within short delivery terms. Another advantage is that you can sell the credits to your customers for a price that you yourself can determine!

Multi-layered, multi-lingual

The offering will continue to grow, especially regarding the variety of products and languages. Already, the persolog® Personality Factor Profile can be filled out in approx. 30 languages, while the corresponding report is available in 9 languages.

Moreover, the persolog® Employee Integrative System is your personnel selection tool that boasts further online features in addition to the questionnaires and reports.
